GOES TO THE JURY.

Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan Testified For Defense in Marcum Murder Trial.

THE JURORS WERE INSTRUCTED.

No Rebuttal Testimony Was Offered by the Commonwealth When the Defense Closed.

Those Who Have Closely Watched the Case and Are Acquainted With Conditions Forecast That a Hung Jury Will Result.

Jackson, Ky., June 17.-Among the witnesses examined in the Marcum murder case Tuesday were Judge Jas. Hargis, uncle of Curt Jett, and Sheriff Callahan. Neither knew who killed Attorney Marcum. They were in Hargis' store but could not see who fired the shots. Testified they did not see Ewen look in the hall of the courthouse when the first shot was fired.

There was much comment Tuesday night upon the testimony offered by the defense, especially that of Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan, who were standing across the street when Marcum was killed in the courthouse. While the witnesses of the defense Monday consisted of the defendants themselves and their friends, those Tuesday consisted of the relatives, employes and close friends and leaders of the dominant faction and the drift of all was for the purpose of proving an alibi for the prisoners.

The defense closed its case Tuesday afternoon. The prosecution did not offer rebuttal testimony. Prosecutor Byrd seemed satisfied with the rigid cross-examination, under which the witnesses for the defense, who were so peculiarly unanimous in their testimony, had been put. It is the popular opinion that the exactness with which Jett was located on a corner by witnesses for the defense who saw little else to relate was damaging to alumni day at the university and the his case. An acquittal would be a surprise, but the general belief of presence of the president and many those who have watched the case and men distinguished in public life, some are acquainted with conditions that of them graduates of the university. a hung jury is the most reasonable The reception accorded the president forecast. If either life imprisonment was a particularly warm one and he or death should be awarded it is considered that White will break down and if he confesses implicate the men the public hall and the student body who instigated the assassination.

With the arguments of counsel Wednesday morning, the case of Curtis Jett and Tom White will go to the jury, which late Tuesday was instructed to impose the death sentence, life imprisonment or acquit the defend-

THE SUSPECTED INCENDIARIES.

No Evidence Against Them and They Were Discharged.

Jackson, Ky., June 17.-Just before noon Tuesday the grand jury filed into the court room and made its report to Judge Redwine. The foreman said no evidence was found against Joe Crawford and Ed Thorp, and it has heen decided to order their release. Judge Redwine sent an order to Maj. Allen, in charge of the jail and prisoners, Crawford and Thorp were liberated. It is believed that no one will be indicted for burning Ewen's home.

Notwithstanding the grand jury's surprising course in dismissing Crawford and Thorp without waiting for witnesses who had been summoned, Attorney Byrd ordered the men held. He then asked Judge Redwine to have vestigate the case. This request was court.

GETTING A JURY.

monwealth For Mr. Farrow's Assailants

And Case Against Sanders First Taken Up Large Crowd Met Troops at Depot. But No Trouble Occurred.

An immense crowd composed of men, women and children was at the C. and O. depot at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when Sheriff Roberson and the Louisfrom Covington with Tom Mann, Ed. assailants of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Farrow. The Frankfort company was also in waiting, with their Gatling gun.

The Louisville company had a Hotchkiss gun with them, and the trio of prisoners surrounded by members of the battery, with the Hotchkies gun in front and Gatling in rear, were marched direct to the court house.

Aside from the sensational scenes consequent upon the presence of the troops, nothing usual transpired. No demonstration was made against the prisoners.

An important witness for the prosecution was not present when the case was called, and court adjourned till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the prisoners being committed to the jail in the interim.

On the reassembling of court at 2 o'clock the attorneys for the Commonwealth asked for a separate trial of the accused. This was granted, and the case against Charles Sanders charged with wilful and malicious shooting was taken up and the work of securing a jury commenced. The rest of the afternoon was occupied in this work, and when court adjourned nine jurors had been accepted. as follows: R. R. Maltby, W. F. Dugan, Wm. Rosser, G. M. McGraw, W. D. Frazee, Frank Boyd, Wm. Colvin, C. M. Devore and H. K. Dickson.

The regular panel having been exhausted, a special venire was issued for t venty-five jurors, and Sheriff Roberson was directed to have them present at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. J. M. Collins and City Attorney Wood are defendant's attorneys, while Commonwealth's Attorney Daum and County Attorney O'Donnell are looking after the prosecution.

The work of securing a jury has probably been completed ere this, and the trial of Saunders ought to be finished today. Saunders is the one who confessed shortly after his arrest, and it is said he is ready to tell all about the case when he is placed on the stand. While a large crowd was in Maysville Tuesday, it is safe to say that the greater part of them came merely out of idle cualthough there was no demonstration whatever against the prisoners, the sensational newspaper correspondents have sent out wild stories of a mob thronging the streets and being driven back at "the point of bayonets." These sensational writers ought to be banished, along with

One of the privates of the Frankfort Company of State Guards was cut on the back of the right hand in a scuffle Tuesday afternoon with some parties at a house in the rear of the jail. The cut severed a vein and he had to be taken to Dr. Yazell's office to have the wound dressed.

Latonia Domestic Poured Cleansing Stuff Into Water.

Covington, Ky., June 17.-Rosa Christian, a 19-year-old colored girl of Latonia, Ky., was probably fatally burned Tuesday morning in a most peculiar manner. The girl is employed at the home of Mrs. Welsh, on Southern avenue, in Latonia, and, Tuesday morning was preparing to do a day's washing. She got a box of cleansing material and poured it into the water. The stuff seemed to have some combustive mixture and had no sooner come in contact with the water than an explosion followed and the flames enveloped the girl, who screamed and ran from the house. Mrs. Welsh was upstairs and hearing the girl's screams ran down stairs, and with the assistville Battery of State Guards arrived ance of neighbors they extinguished the flames by smothering them with a blanket. Dr. Carlton, of Latonia, was Morris and Charles Saunders, the negro then summoned and did all he could to relieve the girl's terrible suffering. Her condition is serious, as the doctor thinks she inhaled the flames. Her face and shoulders were terribly burned and the hair was almost completely burned off her head. The attending physician was mystified when he heard the cause of the burns and stated that he had never heard of any such thing before.

ANNUAL REUNION.

Tuesday night there was a general reception by the local lodge at their club rooms.

Wednesday the festivities will close with two grand balls.

They Start a Movement to Reimburse Capt. B. J. Ewen.

Louisville, Ky., June 17.-Newspapers throughout Kentucky have started a movement to reimburse B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, by popular subscription for his loss of $10,000 sustained through the burning of his hotel by incendiaries. The general belief that Ewen is suffering for doing his duty as a citizen in testifying in the assassination cases makes the movement a popular one. Already subscriptions amounting to $550 have been received by a Lexington paper and an equal riosity. No trouble is apprehended, and amount has been sent to the Courier Journal. Many other newspapers have taken up the movement and Ewen will probably be reimbursed in full.

> Represented Himself as Ewen. Manchester, Ky., June 17 .- An imposter representing himself to be Capt. B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, arrived here Tuesday and began soliciting aid. With tears streaming from his eyes he told a pitiful story of how he had been hounded and persecuted by assassins. He wanted to get money enough to go to St. Louis. The authorities got after him, but he made good his escape.

BURYING

TOTAL LOSS OF LIFE NEAR 500.

The Scene From the Hillside Overlooking the Town of Heppner is One of Desolation.

Huge Piles of Wreckage, in Many Places Fifty Feet High, Fill the Canyon For Half a Mile Below the Town.

Heppner, Ore., June 17.-Estimates of the loss of life by Sunday night's cloudburst differ widely but the number of dead is certain to reach 300 and it may be swelled to 500 when all are accounted for. One hundred and fifty bodies have been buried and it is known that 50 are missing. Still others who were strangers in the town are supposed to be among the lost.

People are coming here from all directions in wagons and on horseback and the work of recovering bodies and burying the dead is proceeding as fast as possible.

The scene from the hillside overlooking the town is one of desolation. Huge piles of wreckage, in many places 50 feet high, fill the canyon from half a mile below the town. As the debris, which is covered many feet deep by mud, is cleared away more bodies are found. Immense boulders weighing tons were rolled along by the flood and deposited in the midst of the town or lodged against buildings.

Three Hundred Bodies Recovered. Three hundred bodies have been found and there are men who say the work is only half begun. An army of women took charge of the bodies. An arm, a leg, a toe, a finger, a lock of hair, a tuft of clothing-these are harbingers of horror beneath the mud. Babies and little children lie there buried with many a gash or bruise on their tender bodies. Forms of women frequently came to light, bereft of all clothing. The bodies are borne to Roberts' hall to be washed and dressed by women to be shrouded in coarse white clothes to be laid in rough wood boxes. There is no time for ceremony. The floors swim with the half diluted mud that drips from the victims, but the living patter through it or sweep it out when it gets too deep. The rough boxes go to the cemeteries, not singly in hearses but many at a time piled high in the wagons.

Thrilling Incidents of the Catastrophe. Among the incidents of the catastrophe was the saving of three lives by Julius Keitley, 70 years old, who rode one mile and a half on the roofs of houses and pulled in three people from the flood. James Kernan, the O. R. & N. agent, met his death at the telegraph key trying to raise Portland to inform the outside world of the impending calamity. His little daughter Katie, who was saved by remaining in the station house, saw her father and mother lost in the whirl of the mad waters. One of the most thrilling adventures was that of Thomas Shuter, who with his family was carried down stream in his house for a mile and a half. His wife and two children stepped into the upper rooms. Below town the house was shot across the creek to the west side, where it lodged in debris, 150 yards from the canyon bank. Shuter then took his two little ones on his shoulder and swam 200 yards in the boiling torrent, landed the children and then struck out to the house for his wife and res-

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN OF THE

SOUTH. Col. Charles H. Collins, of Hillsboro

O., a native of Maysville, whom his old friends remember with pleasure, not long ago made an extended tour of the South, and in a recent account of his travels he pays the women of the South this beautiful tribute:

The women of the South, or at least those whom I was so fortunate as to Mignon Waltz. meet are not imbued with the idea that their mission is to reform everybody Rondo, Op. 55, No. 3 except themselves. They are women of culture and intelligence, graceful in manner, soft in speech, devoted wives, good house keepers, and although having their clubs, societies, mission work, church work and all the adjuncts to feminine life and activity that exists in the North, yet the home and family come first of all. It is never neglected, no matter how pressing the call from other sources. Home life is at its best in the South, and is made so by the Southern women.

All Blue Lick waters are good but some are a good deal better than others. Our people have heretofore been contented with the Lower Spring waters, but after a trial of Upper Spring waters the most skeptical will be convinced of its superiority. We received a shipment this week of Upper Spring waters in one-half gallons, quarts, pints and splits, and will be pleased to receive your orders for any quantity. This is the first Upper Blue Lick Waters received here. Give it a trial and notice the dif-

With a good Gas Range you can cook your soup over a slow fire, which it needs, and your roast over a quick fire, and both at the same time. How can you do this anyother way than with a GAS RANGE?

Gas Ranges At Factory Cost Price!

Never was such another opportunity afforded you to obtain so much value for the same money. During the month of June the Gas Company will, if so desired, make a written agreement with any purchaser of a Gas Range to the effect, that, if on the first day of August, said purchaser shall have become dissatisfied with the use of their Range, either for the reason that it will not do the work as represented, or that it costs too much to operate, then the Gas Company will take back the stove and refund any money paid upon its purchase price. The only thing to prevent you taking advantage of this offer is that the Ranges are sold quicker than they can be connected up, so if you are thinking of buying one, now is the time to decide. Over twenty installed during May and not a single complaint. For further particulars see the Gas Company and sample Ranges at Langfels & Co.'s.
